To the Public.

Owing to ill health I have decided to retire from the practice of medicine, and have sold my residence at Bell, Ky., including my office and professional outfit, to my brother, Dr. Austin Bell. I heartily recommend him to the public as one qualified to fill any position, either medical or surgical, having had a vast experience for one of his age.

In retiring from the profession, I do so very reluctantly, for I am greatly in love with my life's "chosen work," but necessity compels me to do so and I must submit to the inevitable. To the people of Christian and adjoining counties who have stuck to me so faithfully, I assure them they have my heartfelt thanks and gratitude.

J. P. BELL.

Bell, Ky., Sept. 6, 1899.

MRS. IRENE COX.

Death of an Old and Much Beloved Woman.

Mrs. Irene Cox, who for many years resided at the town of Bellevue, (now Gracey) died Wednesday at her home in Princeton, Ky., where she has lived for several years.

She was nearly ninety years of age and leaves a large number of descendants.

Messrs. J. N. Cox, and Geo. H. Cox, of Julien, and W. F. Cox and Robt. E. Cox, of Gracey, are her surviving sons. She also leaves three daughters, Mrs. H. B. Clark, of Gracey; Mrs. Martha Howe, of Cairo, Ill., and Miss Josephine Cox, of Princeton, Ky. Two other sons and one daughter died several years ago, all leaving families, and her grand-children and great-grand-children are very numerous, nearly all of whom live in this country.

Mrs. Cox was a lifelong member of the Baptist church. The burial occurred at the family burying ground one mile north of Gracey, yesterday.

SUNDAY THE BANNER DAY.

Grounds Literally Alive With People—Woods Full of Horses.

The Carvassa camp meeting, being held a few miles east of Trenton is attracting large crowds every day, the tenting capacity being taxed to its utmost to hold the people. Evangelist Auro Smith, of Missouri, is doing most of the preaching and his wife conducts the singing. The meeting will continue over next Sunday.

The Elkton Progress says of the meeting:

"Sunday last was the banner day in point of attendance—the crowd being estimated at 3,000 people. The grounds were literally alive with people and the woods full of horses and vehicles. All the cottages are now occupied and the boarding house and livery stable are doing a splendid business."

AFTER LONG SUFFERING.

Death Comes as Relief—Victim of Bright Disease.

After many months of intense suffering Mr. W. W. Reynolds, the well known mechanic, died at his home on Durrett Avenue at an early hour Wednesday morning of Bright's disease. For six months he had been unable to work at his trade and sold novelties upon the streets.

A Key West refugee is sick with the fever at Miami, Fla. A New Orleans telegram says there is a great deal of suspicious fever at Miami, eighty persons being on the sick list. It is believed that all quarantines against New Orleans will be raised in a few days.

MISS RUSSELL

The Hostess of a Most Enjoyable Affair.

The entertainment at Mr. J. D. Russell's Wednesday evening, a reception in honor of Misses Stewart, Dewhurst and Kesse, was in every respect a most enjoyable affair. Nearly one hundred guests were present and the gracious lawn was a scene of grace, beauty and vivacity. It was brilliantly lighted with Japanese lanterns, and as the evening was warm the guests were entertained principally in the open air. Delicious refreshments and cooling drinks were served from tables on the veranda and nothing was left undone by Mrs. Russell and her charming daughter, Miss Bessie, to make the affair a complete success.

NO NEW FEATURES.

Sales of the Weed, While Not Large, Were Satisfactory.

There is nothing new to report concerning the tobacco market. Sales this week were, not quite so large as those of the same time last month, but prices were satisfactory. Very little fine tobacco was offered for sale, and rejections were small. Low leaf and lugs made up the sales principally for the week.

There has been a considerable falling off in receipts, as nearly all of the crop has been delivered, and that remaining in the barn will not be disturbed until the busy season is over. The crop of '99 is being cut and housed with a rush. Much of it is worm eaten.
